C112 Small

Marco De Virgiliis created a revolution in bass speaker cabinets when he started using neodymium speakers, making cabs about half the weight they were before. All other manufacturers have followed suit and neodymium is now the norm. Bass players will never look back. But guitarists have become understandably jealous, and it's about time they enjoyed lighter gear. Tone and reliability are the top priorities. But light weight is a very welcome bonus!

The C112 Small is one of our smallest and lightest guitar cabinets, and only weighs 6.9 kg / 15.21 lbs! It gives you the portability of a 12" cab, but with more tone, punch and volume than you'd ever expect from such a small unit. The C112 SMALL has an open-back design and a single 12" B&C neodymium speaker, custom-made for DV Mark. With 150W of power handling, the cab delivers huge, clear and responsive tone for any genre from jazz to rock and everything in between. For guitarists who need a small, portable cab (or two for a stereo rig), the C112 SMALL is the perfect choice.
